About Collective Kitchen

There has been a collective kitchen at Augustana for many years. Presently there is one collective kitchen running. When the stove at the church quit working the collective kitchen went on hold until a new stove could be purchased. There had been fundraising going on for some time since the stove was showing its age, but more funds were required to obtain a stove that had convection to accommodate the large quantities that are cooked during one evening. The grant has got them up and running again!

The kitchen is run with the help and support of CHEP and the main objectives that members identify as being important to them are:

- Education on nutrition and safety
- Building friendships and a supportive community
- Building self-esteem

What is Compassionate Justice Initiatives: Synod Antipoverty Grant?

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada (ELCIC) and the Canadian Lutheran World Relief (CLWR) work in effective partnership to foster sustainable development in communities around the world, as well as support Compassionate Justice Initiatives right here in Canada. This work includes challenging the causes and responding to the consequences of injustice and poverty.

Within Canada, CLWR facilitates the engagement of Lutheran communities in refugee resettlement and provides funding to support the ELCIC Compassionate Justice Initiatives.

When a gift is made to CLWR, a portion of the undesignated donation supports the ELCIC Compassionate Justice Initiatives such as anti-poverty ministries in Synods, and peace and advocacy work throughout Canada.
