Holy Communion
Those preparing the elements and vessels for Holy Communion wear masks and use excellent hygiene procedures.
Pastors and assistants wash and sanitize their hands before blessing the elements and distributing Holy Communion. In phase three, physical communion distribution is not encouraged. Communicants serve themselves from individually prepared communion safely placed one apart from another.

Communicants sanitize their hands as they proceed to the table.
It is recommended that to minimize close contact, the communicant pauses 2 metres away from the minister, who says, "The body of Christ," to which the response "Amen" is given. The minister should take special care not to touch the communicant, or should pause to wash hands again, if necessary.
Communion in one kind is recognized as a full experience of the Sacrament. Consider offering bread only.
Wafers or gluten-free crackers require less handling than bread.
